

The Pocket Measure by Pansy

Total running time: 10:04:35

Three young women are the central characters in this story. Callie and her husband are poor, but they are frugal and reserve a tenth for God's work. Eva's husband makes more than double what Callie's husband makes, but that doesn't keep them from sinking beneath a load of debt. Even worse, she feels that her husband thinks it's her fault - and she thinks it is, too. She's an inexperienced housekeeper and doesn't know where the money goes. Happy-go-lucky Jennie wants to marry a rich man so that her married life can be filled with parties, gaiety, and pretty things. Will Coleman is poor and is not a Christian, but he's so gentlemanly and romantic...

This recording is in the public domain and may be reproduced, distributed, or modified without permission. For more information or to volunteer, visit librivox.org. Cover picture by S. W. Partridge (1880). Copyright expired in U.S. Cover design by David Purdy. This design is in the public domain.